To whom it may concern.

The above named patient is a known patient of Bronchiectasis, Asthma with fixed airways disease. She had lobectomy of the lung at the age of 10 years. She was involved in a RTA in November 2002 in which she sustained a fracture of the right tibia and right foot injury. She had a fixation of the right tibial fracture, but she developed a chronic discharging ulcer over her right ankle and foot. She was diagnosed to have developed osteomyelitis of her foot bone which was treated with long term oral antibiotics. She continued to have an ulcerated right foot which was also seen by the vascular clinic and plastic surgeons. She had further surgery to cover the ulcer which failed to heal. It is still being dressed as it is still discharging. She was advised to have a right below the knee amputation as her wound has not healed.

She is still having constant chronic pain in her left ankle and foot. She finds it difficult to use the stairs or use the bath. She also has more pain while walking. She has to sleep downstairs on her couch most nights because of the pain. She is still having regular dressings of her right foot wound. I fully support her application for an extension to be built on the ground floor to help her.

Thanking you
Yours truly
