Anfield Cemetery	II*	Cemetery built 1856-63 by Edward Kemp containing a crematorium of 1894-96. The cemetery is diamond-shaped in plan divided into quarters by avenues and subdivided by paths. A chapel constructed during the 1860s was situated on the main avenue. There were also two other chapels to the north and south. Only the south chapel survives.	1000993	ME3983	1130599
Stanley Park	II*	Stanley Park is a public park that was designed by Edward Kemp in 1867 and laid out between 1867 and 1870. Stanley Park was deemed 'the People's Park' in 1870, representing its role as a cradle for the development of working class team sport in Liverpool. The park was part of a plan by the Liverpool Corporation to create open parkland, gardens and sports fields for public leisure use in areas of high population density.	1001000	ME3984	1130936
