Source map scale - 1:10,560

The historical maps shown were reproduced from maps predominantly held at the Ordnance Survey, which were the 1:10,560 scale maps. In 1854 the 1:10,560 scale was adopted for mapping urban areas; these maps were used to update the 1:10,560 maps. The published date given therefore is often some years later than the surveyed date. Before 1938, all OS maps were based on the Cassini Projection, with independent surveys of a single county or group of counties, giving rise to significant inaccuracies in outlying areas. In the late 1940's, a Provisional Edition was produced, which updated the 1:10,560 mapping from a number of sources. The maps appear unlimited - with all military camps and other strategic sites removed. These maps were initially overlaid with the National Grid in 1970. The first 1:10,560 maps produced using the Ordnance Survey's current projection. The revision process continued until recently, with new editions appearing every 10 years or so for urban areas.

The historical maps shown were reproduced from maps predominantly held at the Ordnance Survey, which were published in the 1840s. In 1854 the 1:2,500 scale was adopted for mapping urban areas; these maps were used to update the 1:10,560 maps. The published date given therefore is often some years later than the surveyed date. Before 1938, all OS maps were based on the Cassini Projection, with independent surveys of a single county or group of counties, giving rise to significant inaccuracies in outlying areas. In the late 1940's, a Provisional Edition was produced, which updated the 1:10,560 mapping from a number of sources. The maps appear unfinished - with all military camps and other strategic sites removed. These maps were initially overprinted with the National Grid in 1970. The first 1:10,560 maps produced using the Transverse Mercator projection. The revision process continued until recently, with new editions appearing every 10 years or so for urban areas.
